

Prevention and Community Health

Professionals focused on prevention and community health work within the community, public and private sector to design, implement and evaluate interventions and educational programs in order improve public health, clinical care outcomes and overall patient experience. These developments contribute to a decrease in health disparities and health care costs for the general population or particularly marginalized subsets. The median annual salary is $55,000.

Sample Occupations

- Program Manager
- Research Associate
- Health Educator
- Public Health Analyst

Sample Work Settings

- Government
- Community Health Centers
- Foundations
- Consulting Firms
- Non-profit organizations

Potential Employers

Job Search Sites and Resources

Keywords: health education, research, public health programs

- <http://careers.apha.org/jobs>
- Publichealthjobs.org
- Idealist.org
- Handshake
- Passport Careers

Professional Organizations

- American Public Health Association
- National Association of City and County Health Officials
- National Association of Community Health Centers
- American Association for Health Education