SciENcv & My Bibliography — Tools for NIH Biosketches, Grant Reporting, & Compliance

Bart Trawick, MS, PhD

National Institutes of Health, U.S. National Library of Medicine, National Center for Biotechnology Information

Dr. Trawick will speak about the features and benefits available to researchers through the Science Experts Network Curriculum Vitae (SciENcv). Some of the SciENcv features include:

• Eliminates the need to repeatedly enter biosketch information
• Reduces the administrative burden associated with federal grant submission and reporting requirements
• Provides access to a researcher-claimed data repository with information on expertise, employment, education, and professional accomplishments
• Creates NIH biosketches that will comply with the revised format (scheduled for early 2015)
