
TIAM, APPOLINAIRE, MD, PHD

Dr. Appolinaire Tiam, a recognized HIV/AIDS and Tuberculosis expert with demonstrated experience managing the technical implementation of integrated HIV/AIDS and TB service delivery projects, initiating strategic approach to scale up HIV and TB services in sub-Saharan Africa, building on experience from direct patient care to initiatives at global level. I have provided clinical technical assistance, program evaluation, advocacy, and management oversight to a wide range of donor-funded projects. I am currently leading the work of EGPAF on designing and implementing COVID-related interventions in sub-Saharan Africa in addition to our HIV and TB portfolio. As a seasoned Researcher with extensive skills in the technical oversight and support for clinical research projects, I oversee logistical aspects of clinical research on human subjects' issues, IRB applications, development of study procedures, study conduct, and data collection; oversee the monitoring of studies to ensure compliance with all regulatory and funding requirements and that high-quality results will be achieved. I have led several research studies and evaluations as principal investigator or as co-investigator to generate solid evidence to design country program in Lesotho, Kenya, Uganda, Cameroon, Cote d'Ivoire, Malawi, Eswatini and Zambia. I have excellent knowledge and understanding of global donors such as PEPFAR/USAID/CDC, Global Funds, Unitaids, Bill and Melinda Gate Foundation, J&J, Gilead, Cepheid etc... Until 2016, I was overseeing the implementation of a broad range of HIV services with a number of donors, including PEPFAR/USAID, PEPFAR/CDC, UNITAID, Johnson & Johnson, Gilead, and Cepheid, among others. I have served as the Chief of Party for the USAID/PEPFAR-funded Strengthening Clinical Services Project, providing universal HIV services in Lesotho, Principal investigator for the PEPFAR/CDC funded Supporting HIV and Tuberculosis Response in the Kingdom of Lesotho through District-based Comprehensive Prevention, Care and Treatment Programs and Health Systems Strengthening under PEPFAR and as the Co-chair of the HIV Care and Treatment and PMTCT, and TB/HIV Technical Working Groups. As the current Vice-President Technical strategy and Innovation for the Elizabeth Glaser Pediatric AIDS Foundation, I lead the vision and guide implementation of our technical leadership, innovation and new technology, program optimization and external technical assistance portfolio with the overall goal of accelerating reaching 95-95-95 for all the populations that EGPAF serves; adults and children living with or at risk for HIV/TB and associated co-morbidities. I also serve as a member of the Senior Leadership Team and the Global Leadership Team. I am currently Principal Investigator and Co-Investigator on several operational research studies, and have presented and published my research work internationally. I received my Medical Degree over 20 years ago, a Diploma in HIV Management from the Colleges of Medicine of South Africa, a MMed in Family Medicine from the University of Witwatersrand in South Africa and a PhD from the University of Bergen in Norway.

Resume, Dr. Appolinaire Tiam, May 2024.

Bulletin Description This course is a companion or follow-up course to Pediatric HIV/AIDS PubH 6240 that will provide a more in-depth view of programs for the prevention and treatment of HIV infection in children and adolescents, with an emphasis on the global pediatric HIV epidemic. It will build on the basic biological, epidemiological, clinical, and psycho-social information presented in PubH 6240 to explore public health program implementation successes, challenges and innovations in more detail.

Course Summary This interactive course will address key considerations in the design, implementation, monitoring and evaluation of global public health programs for the prevention, care, and treatment of HIV infection in children and adolescents. Session topics include engagement of stakeholders (such as persons living with HIV, communities, policy makers), introduction and scale up of novel technologies/products, and challenges with antiretroviral adherence and long-term retention in care.

Understand basic technical and programmatic issues related to implementation of services for the prevention, care and treatment of HIV infection in children and adolescents with a focus on Africa.

Understand key aspects of public health programs, policy issues, and current organizational responses to the global epidemic of HIV infection in children and adolescents.

Interact with experts actively working in various aspects of pediatric HIV/AIDS programs.
