Other Helpful Stuff . . . .

- Your program guide, which explains program competencies, degree requirements, etc., at: http://sphhs.gwu.edu/academics/graduateprograms/mastersprograms/masterofpublichealth

- The Student Resources website (http://sphhs.gwu.edu/academics/studentresources) is your one-stop shop for lots of useful information about policies, procedures, courses, registration, career help, etc. We'd like to draw your attention to a couple of key links under Student Resources:
  - The SPHHS Student Handbook is your key guide to the policies, procedures, and resources that are most important for SPHHS students. Access the Handbook here: http://sphhs.gwu.edu/academics/studentresources/studenthandbook
  - Sooner or later you will need to access the SPHHS Forms webpage, which has links to the Graduate Petition Form, the Registration Transaction Form, the Professional Enhancement Form, the Request for Half-Time/Full-Time Certification form, and others. The webpage is here: http://sphhs.gwu.edu/academics/studentresources/studentforms

- At the Student Services 101 session, pay attention to these requirements!
  - Take the Academic Integrity Quiz during your first semester. (See link under Student Resources.)
  - Before you plan your Practicum, complete Practicum training and CITI human subjects protection training. Both are online, see links on the Practicum webpage (under Student Resources).
  - Complete at least 8 hours of Professional Enhancement activities before graduation. This requirement is easy to meet, as there are loads of seminars, conferences, and other professional development opportunities available – see link on Forms webpage for more info.

- The EOH department offers a twice-monthly seminar series on Mondays from 12:30-1:30 pm. Speakers include outside experts, EOH faculty, and trainees presenting their capstone projects, dissertation results, or works in progress. Seminars are a great way to learn about the EOH field, get to know department members, and earn Professional Enhancement hours. Plus, lunch is on us! Stay tuned for email announcements.

- Consider the EOH department space your space, and feel free to come by anytime. Study space is available to students, and a microcomputer lab with ArcGIS, STATA, SAS, JMP, EndNote and Microsoft Office loaded.
