

Health Promotion – Core Competencies

1. Assess the quality of life and health needs of individuals, groups, organizations, and communities.
2. Help organizations design, implement and evaluate education, behavior change, community organization, and advocacy programs to promote health and prevent disease.