

Public Health Communication and Marketing – Core Competencies

1. Help organizations design, plan, implement and evaluate public health communications and marketing programs.
2. Help organizations plan and implement marketing research for public health initiatives.
3. Help organizations develop effective delivery channels for public health products and services.
4. Help organizations advocate for public health policies.